- it is an app designed by a group of University of Calgary graduates - support local business!
 - Often described as the “Uber” or “Skip the Dishes” of recyclables
 - The pick up is free and revenue is split 70% to Elbow Park Parent Society and 30% to Skip the Depot.
 - Every pick up user gets a receipt with the breakdown of bottles collected with a total amount that will be donated (within 48 hours)
 - Choose how often you want pick up (between 8am and 5pm on designated pick up day fo your community)
 - Once you set up your bottle pick up, log in to the app after 8am on the day of and you will be given a more accurate window of when your pick up will be. You will then get notice when your bottles/recycle items have been picked up (very similar to Uber/Skip the Dishes)
 - Bonus - you can also add clothing/household items and electronic recycling to your pick up

Benefits to using Skip the Depot

1. It is of no cost to the school to run this program, and it runs itself
2. Keeps more refundables out of the blue bins so money goes to donation rather than to the city
3. Send other household items with your bottle pick up (saves trip to donation centre)
4. Reduces transient population in the alleys
5. No more storing bottles for weeks at a time or having to haul them to bottle depot
6. It runs itself all year long and hopefully with word of mouth users will continue to grow.
